

Getaway gadgets

Got a holiday booked? These new tools will make it even more fun!

Beat the sound barrier

Philips SHB8850NC (£89.99, currys.co.uk) One of the rare joys of long-haul flights is kicking back and watching the latest blockbuster. These noise-cancelling headphones will muffle the sound of plane engines and passenger chatter, making dialogue and music crystal clear.

Power pack

Flux Portable Charger (£32 incl shipping, fluxchargers.com)

This rather bijou rechargeable battery holds enough juice to fully charge your phone twice. It's about the same size as an iPhone 4, but lighter, at just 88g.

Socket set

Skross Pro Light USB World Adapter (£22.67, amazon.co.uk)

Ever arrived at your destination, only to realise you brought the wrong adapter or too few of them to power all your devices? Next time, be sure to pack this clever little device. It works in more than 200 countries and includes two in-built USB chargers to boot.

Watch out

Moto 360 2nd Gen (£239, store.google.com)

Download apps to this Android watch to give you directions, show your boarding pass or flight times, do quick currency conversions, translate foreign words or check the local weather. Smart!

Money maximiser

Revolut (free, revolut.com) Download this nifty app onto your smartphone, link it to your current account and you'll be sent a Mastercard debit card. Use it for purchases and cash withdrawals abroad, and you'll save around 15% on average compared to UK bureau de change or using your ordinary debit or credit card.

Perfect pictures

Oloclip (£99.99, oloclip.com)

Ditch your hefty digital camera and still get the best pictures by using Oloclip. You simply slide these dual add-on pro lenses over the top of your phone in one swift click. The front lens makes your phone's camera wide-angle, while the rear-facing one gives it a fun, fish-eye effect.

Solo socialising website

maiden-voyage.com Travelling on your own can be a real adventure - but it can be a bit lonely at times, too. Not any more! Maiden Voyage can set you up with a female dinner companion at destinations around the world, giving you a little insight into the local culture at the same time. 🍷
